4CTechnologies Announces
2005 "Vision for Tomorrow" Awards

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, January XX, 2006 --- 4CTechnologies, a leading Pittsburgh-based management firm specializing in IT-based business innovation, recently announced the winners of their annual "Vision for Tomorrow" awards.

The "Vision for Tomorrow" awards are given each year by 4CTechnologies to companies who best demonstrate an interminable commitment and a clear vision in the development of technology in advancing the operational success of their company.

AWARD	COMPANY/VISION
Greatest Innovation in e-Business: Enterprise-Wide	SRI Quality System Registrar for their web-based e-Vents® system

According to 4CTechnologies President John P. Riley, "We are pleased to have the opportunity to recognize our clients and their investment in technology as a means to improve the efficiency of their operation, better serve their customers and increase their revenues. We hope the "Vision for Tomorrow" awards will set a high standard for performance and a clear example for other Pittsburgh-based businesses wishing to utilize technology to improve their bottom-line success."

SRI Quality System Registrar invested heavily in their web-based e-Vents® system in 2005 --- a complex and integrated system of communication, collaboration, and information management --- to better serve their customers and improve the connectivity between various departments and aspects of their business. "SRI decided to invest in a single system that could facilitate and integrate everything it does," said Joel Zygmunt, Vice President of Operations. "We knew that by putting all of our business information at the fingertips of every employee, we could better serve our customers and ourselves. Along with increased customer satisfaction, SRI has seen a tremendous boost in employee productivity and responsiveness."
