SRI Quality System Registrar Promotes Stacie Mazur and Ed Maschmeier to Associate Vice President

PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA, September 11, 2017 – SRI Quality System Registrar (SRI), provider of management system and green building certification, today announces the promotion of Stacie Mazur and Ed Maschmeier to the positions of Associate Vice President.

Stacie Mazur, Associate Vice President, Customer Care

“Stacie has been a key part of our success since joining SRI, and we are excited to recognize her contributions with a promotion to this important position,” said Christopher Lake, President and COO of SRI.

Ms. Mazur joined SRI in 1995 as Operations Associate, becoming Manager, Customer Care in 2007, then ascended in 2010 to Director, Customer Care and Scheduling.

Ms. Mazur holds a degree from the Newport Business Institute in New Kensington, Pennsylvania, and began her career in medical equipment and home services before joining SRI. Her background in customer services and organizational leadership has made her an invaluable member of the SRI team.

Ed Maschmeier, Associate Vice President, Certification

“Ed has become a critical member of SRI’s leadership, and we are fortunate to have his skills. We are thrilled to recognize his vital role in our team with this promotion,” states Dr. Peter Lake, Chairman and CEO of SRI.

Mr. Maschmeier joined the SRI executive team as the Director of Certification in 2013 following 13 years of work as a lead auditor for SRI in several of its key markets. Mr. Maschmeier also spent several years before joining the executive team with one of our key customers, Flex-n-Gate, as Quality Manager.

Mr. Maschmeier holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Grinnell College. Ed represents SRI on several of its key associations, including the International Automotive Certification Bodies Association (IACBA), Independent Association of Accredited Registrars (IAAR), is a member of the American Society for Quality (ASQ), and he chairs and sits on SRI's Technical Advisory Council.
